PA NEW OBSERVES

According to a report received by Pa. News, Frank DeSalvo, well-known farmer of East Brook, has been averaging about 70 bushels of oats yield an acre on his farm.

Occasionally one sees fire trucks from other cities passing through the downtown section. This morning it was a small engine from Prospect, Pa. News observed.

Preliminary work is under way at New Wilmington in preparation for the annual missionary conference next month, Pa. News is informed.

In a journey past Deshon hospital at Butler, Pa. News noticed that the once busy, bustling institution is very quiet with only a couple of guards to keep out intruders as the only persons seen around.

Someone who had experienced tire trouble on Mercer street Monday evening, put on their spare tire as the old worn out tire was left lying in the carway of the street. The tire was in very bad shape.

Perry Flansburg of Franklin avenue was proudly displaying, on an East Side bus, a large basket of blackberries that he had picked Monday afternoon. The basket of berries which consisted of about seven quarts was picked at a wild patch just north of the city. Mr. Flansburg stated that it took him about four hours to obtain the berries.

Large crops seem to be the rule this season, and now comes Mrs. Mildred Waring, of Rose Point, with a report that a beet raised in her garden, weighed three and a quarter pounds. Can you beat this?

Another warm Monday afternoon brought hundreds of boys and girls out at Cascade Park for another swim in the park pool. It being the weekly "kids day", the bathers getting in for half price.

One little girl of about eight years of age is none the worse for her experience at Cascade Park on Monday afternoon. The little girl was watching the riders on the Dogem, when in some manner her knee became locked in between the posts of

Voting Control First Conflict At Peace Meet

Big Four And Smaller Nations Differ On Majority Or Two-Thirds Rule

AUSTRALIAN LEADS FIGHT ON ISSUE

By PIERRE J. HUSS (International News Service Staff Writer)

PARIS, July 30.—Delegates to the Paris peace conference knuckled down to serious work today in the smoke of a battle royal between the Big Four and smaller nations for voting control.

First crisis of the parley appeared in a procedural committee meeting over the issue of whether a simple majority or two-thirds vote shall prevail.

Herbert Evatt, Australia's external affairs minister, led the fight for majority rule and thereby crossed swords with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, who during sessions of the foreign ministers council fought implacably for the two-thirds requirement.

Certain Of Eleven Votes

Evatt has visited the camp of every small nation attending the conference and claims he is now certain of 11 committee votes. Since there are but 21 nations registered, these would assure him a majority.

The Australian and his newly formed bloc are determined that the Big Four shall not make the conference a "rubber-stamp" affair. They want their weight felt, and

Five Alarm Fire In San Francisco Fatal To Four Fire-Fighters

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—(INS)—Four firemen were killed today and at least five persons were overcome by smoke when a five-alarm fire raged through Herbert's hotel and a tavern at Powell and O'Farrell streets in the heart of the downtown area.

All of the estimated 300 hotel guests fled to safety except an aged man and his wife who were overcome by smoke and hospitalized.

The four firemen who lost their lives in one of the San Francisco fire department's worst tragedies were trapped in a rear ground floor room by a sudden back draft.

They were identified as Lieut. John Bowman, Al Hudson, Walter Alvinsky and Charles Lynch.

Peace Treaty Drafts Will Be Made Public

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(INS)—The "Big Four" powers today planned to lay their differences over the German satellite peace treaties before world public opinion for judgment.

After days of jockeying and maneuvering, official texts of the treaties for Italy, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland were due to be made public tonight.

In addition, at Soviet insistence, the four powers which have prepared preliminary drafts for the 21-power Paris peace conference plan to set forth the varying viewpoints of each on undecided matters.

Points of Difference
As the Paris conference proceeds, these points of difference are expected to loom larger than in the past.

1. Settlement of the Trieste issue, where the future of Trieste itself is still to be decided. Some sentiment exists for internationalization of the port under United Nations control.

2. Internationalization of the in-

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(INS)—The Mead committee convened today to "get the facts" on a contractor's 1941 payment of $2500 to Rep. John M. Coffee (D) Wash., while its postwar investigation fanned out on four other fronts.

Six civilian and three former or present army witnesses in addition to Coffee were called to testify concerning the congressman's admitted receipt of $2500 from Ewald Anderson, Tacoma, Wash., contractor.

Bridgeport Man Held For Killing Of Wife, Escort

BRIDGEPORT, Pa., July 30.—(INS)—Kenneth Hanley, 25-year-old war veteran, was held without bail today for court for the slaying of his estranged wife and her escort.

Hanley pleaded not guilty as he was brought before Magistrate John Turley in Bridgeport.

His attorney, James Caiola, was refused his request that the hearing be delayed until next Monday. Caiola argued that Hanley is a possible victim of amnesia, and that he would be in better condition next week.

When the defendant, unshaven and dull-eyed, was asked if he wanted a postponement, he replied: "I don't care. It's up to you."

Upper Merion Police Chief John Tompkins, however, charged that Hanley was "putting on an act."

Before the hearing, Hanley was again taken on a tour of the area where his estranged wife, Helen, 22, and her escort, John Hoffman, 26, were shot to death two weeks ago in a parked car.

Police said he remained evasive to all their questions.

Security Payroll Warning Is Given

HARRISBURG, July 30.—(INS)—The State Chamber of Commerce emphasized today that unless congress held the social security payroll tax at one per cent, Pennsylvania would contribute more than $250,000,000 annually to the federal government.

Dr. Leonard P. Fox, general secretary, explained that the payroll tax would jump to two per cent January 1 unless congress postponed the increase proposed in a measure pending in a senate committee. The levy currently raises $50,000,000 a year among Pennsylvania workers and employers, he added.

Dearborn Has Celebration Of Henry Ford Day

Automotive Pioneer Is 83 Years Old Today—Optimistic On Future

DETROIT, July 30.—(INS)—It's "Henry Ford day" today in the city of Dearborn.

The Detroit suburb is staging a city-wide celebration in honor of the automotive pioneer's 83rd birthday.

The festivities are being arranged by the Dearborn Chamber of Commerce.

Twenty-five thousand persons are expected to attend a special program at Ford field, which Ford donated to Dearborn. The program includes parties for children at 22 playgrounds.

"Henry Ford day" will be climaxed with a nationwide broadcast (over CBS) tonight at which the city of Dearborn will present Ford with a plaque.

Optimistic View

In an optimistic birthday statement, Ford declared that present-day "unsettled conditions" are only temporary. He said:

"I am constantly reading and hearing about unsettled conditions in the world today. In my lifetime I've witnessed similar situations many times as they followed military and economic warfare.

"Actually, each of those periods was only temporary and from each

Conferees Seek Agreement On Terminal Pay

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(INS)—The senate-house conference on the GI-terminal leave bill fought against time in an effort to form a measure acceptable to both chambers.

At today's conference the house conferees were reported standing firm for cash payment, while senate members continued their argument of "no bonds, no bill."

The senate stand was taken after Sen. Johnson (D) Colo., said that because of treasury and bureau of the budget opposition, a cash bill would be a veto.

Payment to enlisted men and officers for unused leave time in five-year, two and one-half per cent non-negotiable bonds, as passed by the senate has approval of the administration agencies.

Hopes for Settlement

Sen. Thomas (D) Okla., chairman of the conferees, said he believed a settlement would be reached, but he added:

"The chairman is always optimistic."

The house conferees had a compromise proposal by Sen. Gurney (R) S. D., to consider. Gurney's plan was to make the bonds negotiable in payment for national service life insurance premiums.

The government has urged an extension to convert their national service insurance to civilian policies, but cost of conversion has kept some veterans from making the transfer.

Under the Gurney plan terminal leave pay could be used for conversion and premium costs.

Other Compromises Likely

Thomas said that several other compromises of this nature might be proposed. He cited one that

Chinese Communists Ambush U.S. Marines

PEIPING, July 30.—(INS)—United States Marine patrols set out today on a search for leathernecks missing from a group which was ambushed by a large force of Chinese communists.

Initial reports of the attack said that four marines were slain and at least 11 wounded in a four-hour battle with the communist force between Peiping and Tientsin. The wounded were under medical treatment at the marine hospital in Peiping.

Marine patrols were sent out from both Peiping and Tientsin in an attempt to take up new stations.

Less than three weeks ago, a group of armed Chinese, believed to be communists, captured seven marines in Hopei province. These marines were released unharmed five days ago.

TOOK PLANE FOR FLIGHT TO WEST

NORTH CONWAY, N. H., July 30.—(INS)—A forgiving husband today awaited word from Mrs. Barbara Walker, 23-year-old mother, after authorities closed their investigation of her disappearance following receipt of information she had flown to California after hoaxing a kidnapping.

The Boston Evening American said Mrs. Walker, who faked the kidnapping to flee humdrum country life, failed because of a sudden death, to keep a rendezvous with a man at swank Lake Tahoe, Calif., where last year she had a brief taste of the gaiety she dreamed of.

She now is on the last 300-mile leg of a trans-continental flight to Sacramento where friends of her husband are "going to scold her good" and see that she gets back east.

Illusions Shattered

Any romantic illusion Barbara may have had about a handsome young employee at Lake Tahoe, Sierra lodge—whom she sought unsuccessfully to contact by telephone just before her western dash—was shattered abruptly today.

Newark Chief Files Charge Against Dishonorably Discharged Veteran For Murder

NEWARK, O., July 30.—(INS)—First degree murder charges were to be filed today against a 22-year-old discharged veteran in the attack slaying of a 17-year-old girl.

Newark Police Chief Gail Christman said he would file the charges against Ralph Hoffer, whose fingers ironically are tattooed with the words "true love"—one letter on each finger, excluding the thumbs.

Christman said Hoffer would be arraigned on the charges tomorrow. The official said Hoffer had confessed in a signed statement that he beat and kicked Mrs. Theima Anderson to death while in a drunken rage.

The girl's battered body was found Sunday in a lonely field by a workman.

An application from Siam is expected to arrive before Aug. 21 deadline. The committee must report its recommendations to the council not later than that date and the big five delegates to the committee must be in agreement before an application can be endorsed.

Thos. Hartman Turns McConnell's Mills Property Over To Pittsburgh Parks Association

TO BE MAINTAINED AS PUBLIC PARK

McConnell's Mills, for seventy-six years the property of the McConnell and Hartman families, today became the property of the Greater Pittsburgh Parks Association, which has been negotiating for the mile-long tract for almost two years.

Thomas Hartman, who owned the land until today, turned it over to the Pittsburgh group on condition that the site will be used for "the maintenance and preservation of a place of scenic beauty, historic interest, and wild life sanctuary for the purpose of conservation, education, recreation, and public enjoyment, and for such other purposes as may be incidental thereto." The site is not to be commercialized in any way, and as far as the public is concerned, it will be the same as it has been for years.

Not Yet State Park

McConnell's Mills is not becoming a state park, although the contract has been drawn up so that it may become one at a later date. The Greater Pittsburgh Parks Association is an incorporated organization unconnected with state or local governments.

Thousands Of British Troops In Methodical Comb-Out At Tel Aviv

JERUSALEM, July 30.—(INS)—Telegraph and telephone communications and all highway traffic in and out of Tel Aviv were halted today by thousands of crack British paratroopers engaged in the most methodical comb-out ever tried on one city.

Personnel of the veteran British Sixth Airborne division searching for perpetrators of Jerusalem's King David hotel bombing are dug in behind machinegun barricades or stationed at scores of strategic positions.

Under Curfew Orders

Troop operations were designed to root out the "canker" of the extremist activities and were performed under curfew orders that warned violators they were liable to be shot on sight.

A message from the all-Jewish city shortly before communications were cut said its nearly 200 thousand inhabitants had been "cribbled, caged and curfewed" by a drastic stay-at-home edict.

The restrictive order came on the heels of an announcement by Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, high commissioner for Palestine, that evidence in his possession indicates some, if not all, of the extremists who bombed the King David hotel came from Tel Aviv.

Molotov And Evatt In Clash

(International News Service)
PARIS, July 30.—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Australian Minister of External Affairs Herbert Evatt clashed verbally today when the Russian explained why he favored Yugoslav Vice-Premier Edvard Kardelj for chairmanship of the peace conference procedural committee.
When Czechoslovakia's Jan Masaryk proposed that chairman be alternated, Molotov countered that the only logical choice was Kardelj. He cited two reasons:
1—Because Yugoslavia was neighbor to two of the defeated countries, and
2—"It was no fault that Australia was far away from the European battlefields, very, very far away."
This latter remark caused Evatt to bristle like an enraged bushman. The Australian said into Molotov verbally, informing him loudly that all the countries had been invited to the conference because they contributed toward victory and that it was not a question of how much each contributed or how far from Europe it was.
Molotov silently accepted the rebuff, and Belgian Prime Minister Paul Henri Spaak obtained the chair.

consider majority rule the best method of making it count.
Many delegates believe that although Secretary of State Byrnes does not fully approve the two-thirds suggestion of the Big Four, he will go along with decisions of the ministers council to avoid being charged with sabotaging its rulings.
Majority Vote May Win
Paris, July 30.—The Paris peace conference of 21 victor nations swung into its second session today with all signs pointing toward eventual agreement to make decisions by a simple majority vote as demanded by Australia.
Two such developments appeared to bear out this thesis.
First, the procedural committee elected Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak its chairman by a majority vote of 13 to 7, with one abstention.
Second, the rules committee supported a proposal by United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes that news correspondents be admitted to all of its future meetings.
The committee decided to urge the plenary session of the conference this afternoon to act likewise.
If this is carried through, correspondents will have access to all deliberations—a clear triumph for the principle of open treaties so eloquently urged by the American representative. Byrnes was supported in his attitude by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Herbert V. Evatt of Australia.

3. Reparations which Italy is to be obliged to pay to the countries she overran in the days of Fascist aggression. These involve payments to Ethiopia, France, Greece and Yugoslavia.
Other Points Likely
These points of difference have been generally known, due to the publicity given the "Big Four" foreign ministers meeting in Paris. But it was believed, other points of difference may be disclosed when the texts are released.
In addition, the "Big Four" ministers planned to issue individual statements in support of their position on the controversial subjects. Substantially, this will turn the present Paris meeting into a debating forum where world reaction to specific deals may influence the outcome.

FAITH IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE

If a grocerman in Pittsburgh, or elsewhere, sells a few pounds of sugar without stamps, it is not very long until the government has him. But, it seems that some of our officials at Washington, can steal billions of dollars, and keep at it, and outside of the newspapers, we hardly ever hear what becomes of them.

If our President would fight the election of these kind of men at Washington, in place of fighting someone who doesn't think the way he does, it would be a great deal better for the country.

WASHINGTON CALLING by MARQUIS CHILDS

Big U. S. Crops To Ease World Hunger

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The bounteous American earth is giving forth again with a record harvest and the world's hunger is being eased. The newest miracle, after five years of bumper crops is more good fortune than we are entitled to expect.

What this nation has done, despite confusion and conflict both in Washington and in the country, is truly remarkable. A total of 400,000,000 bushels of grain was shipped to Europe and Asia in the year ending June 30.

But while we can take pride in this record, with the honors going chiefly to the farmers who sweated out record yields of wheat and corn, we should remember that there are still vast populations on the edge of starvation. There is a long road ahead before anything like the pre-war level is achieved. Members of an unofficial famine mission to India have just returned to this country. They found comparatively little evidence of malnutrition and almost no famine.

This, however, is because a rigid rationing system distributes all available food efficiently and effectively. Bengal province, where the government has failed to do an effective job, is a big exception. The order and discipline that prevailed elsewhere deeply impressed the Americans who toured the country by plane from one end to the other.

The ration is 12 ounces, or approximately 1,200 calories for adults, and six ounces for children under eight. This is just enough to sustain life. That is what is so important for us to realize here—that any breakdown in the rationing system would be likely to plunge the whole country into chaos.

The famine mission found a gap of 500,000 tons in India's supply from the outside for the crisis months of September, October and November. The government of India has money available to buy the grain but whether grain will be forthcoming is a question.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson told members of the mission, when they conferred with him, that 500,000 tons were in sight. Somehow, we in this country must find a way to ship that extra 250,000 tons. This is only source from which it can come. Moreover, Herbert Hoover wired Anderson that the mission's estimate was a conservative one.

Members of the mission found in India that Hoover's visit there had had a beneficial effect. It convinced Indian officials, who for so long lived with the arithmetic of gnawing bellies, that there was real concern in this country over their plight.

Just Folks By EDGAR A. GUEST

GOLF

Golf is a game domineering. Of triumphs not many can boast. For prizes (which tarnish) and cheering.

It asks far too much of the most. A man must with patience endure. To live to his law, one and all.

The first one (and some learn it never). You must keep your eye on the ball.

Golf's a tyrannical master. Respect for its rule it demands. The club head must always move faster.

Thin shoulders and hips and the hands. Golf penalties strike without pity. Alike on all players they fall.

For clever, for wise, and for witty. One way: keep your eye on the ball.

A golfer must think when he's playing. Of what he is trying to do. Head, nothing companions are saying.

However so lovely the view—All Beauty he has to be spurning. Still keeping his eye on the ball. But this takes a lifetime for learning.

And I cannot manage it all.

What People Say

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK—Former Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes predicts President Truman's political appointments will persuade him to run for re-election in 1948. "The hostages to fortune that he is responsible for will put up such a performance at the walling wall that Mr. Truman will dry their tears out of pity."

PARIS—Gen. Charles De Gaulle, pleading for Franco-British peace, "Russia and the U. S. seem to be their very mass toward an expansion that, in accordance with eternal custom, is draping itself in the mantle of doctrines but in the long run is really the unfolding of power."

LONDON—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist organization and opponent of new plans to partition Palestine, admonishes his people: "Be good of heart and do not lose courage. Every ounce of energy must be directed to the great task of securing our future."

"WHENEVER YOU SEE THIS MANY GOATS, THEN YOU HAVE LOCATED LUTHER LARKINS; ALL THE GOATS ARE JUST CRAZY ABOUT LUTHER."

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Service)
No peace treaty for Germany will be written at the present peace conference. . . . So far the peace-loving Allies have not been able to agree on how to handle Berlin.

But there is no reason that the peace conference should run more than a few days. . . . All that's to be done is to fix the amount of reparations to Russia then everybody can go home.

The man who should be at the conference is the federal agent who has just ruled that the General Motors four-month deep was due to "materials shortage" and not the strike.

This will come as a surprise to Walter Reuther but it's nice to know that the boys who carried the "52 or 40" signs weren't really striking. . . . They just hurried outside the gate to wait for parts.

The new gag is. . . . Question: "Who was that picket line I saw you with last night?" Answer: "That was no picket line, that was a materials shortage."

A boy like that at the peace conference could prove that there was no war. . . . It was just a peace shortage.

The moral is. . . . Never believe what you see with your eyes or hear with your ears until a government man has explained it.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Somebody sent me a marked copy of a magazine called "This Month," containing an article entitled "He Takes the Gamble Out of Marriage."

The article is about Professor Ernest Burgess of the University of Chicago, a bachelor, who has just finished an exhaustive study of marriage and can tell you beforehand whether you are going to be happy or not.

According to the article he hands you a questionnaire and you answer it. Your answers tell the professor whether your marriage will be "a splendid adventure or a stormy prelude to divorce."

Here are some of the questions: Do you confide in your fiancée? Are your demonstrations of affection frequent? Do you like and respect each other's families? Have you had other romances? Do you agree on financial matters?

There are many more, but these will give you the general idea.

The professor lists "marriage risks." According to his survey, the best marriage risk is a chemical engineer.

Since chemical engineers are not very easy to find, you may try, in the order named, a minister, college professor, athletic coach, student, high school teacher, accountant and officer worker.

The worst risk includes laborers, traveling salesmen, mechanics, carpenters, auto mechanics, plumbers, musicians, barbers and railroad workers.

Professor Burgess bases his findings on 526 couples examined. 55.4 per cent of all the husbands said they were "very happy" and 51.8 per cent of the wives admitted complete bliss.

2.4 per cent of both wives and husbands classified themselves as "very unhappy." The others were in between.

There are lots more rules to follow in selecting a husband or a wife. Personally, I think all this scientific business about marriage is complete bunk.

After almost twenty five years of marriage I consider myself somewhat of an authority on the subject. Here are my rules:

If your heart goes plitter patter, then you're in love.

If you are in love, marry.

If you marry, treat each other as if you weren't married at all.

Two people can live just as cheaply as two people—and not a penny cheaper.

That's all the science there is to it.

Hints On Etiquette

If you are a guest at a dinner in restaurant or hotel you do not tip the waiters. Your host or hostess takes care of that, unless you need some special personal service for which you think a tip is demanded.

No. 17

LIMITS SET TO CONGRESS

The following two sections of Article I of the Constitution contain the remaining provisions relating to the legislative department—the Congress of the United States:

Section 9. The migration of importation of such persons as any of the states now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

No taxation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state.

No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one state over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to, or from, one state be obliged to enter, clear, or pay duties to another.

No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States, and no person holding any office of profit or trust, under them, shall, without the consent of Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from king, prince or foreign state.

Section 10. No state shall enter into any treaty, alliance or confederation; grant letters of marque or reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make any thing but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts; or grant any title of nobility.

No state shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any impost or duties or imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any state on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops, or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another state, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

Section 9 has reference to negro slavery as it then existed, was not to be permitted by Congress prior to 1808, but the framers of the Constitution did not overlook a chance to lay a tax and they laid a tax of ten dollars upon every negro brought into the Union.

A shadow of the English Bill of Rights intruded in the framing of the second paragraph of Section 9—a writ of habeas corpus should not be suspended except in cases of rebellion or invasion.

In paragraph three of Section 9—a bill of attainder was a levy of attachment upon the goods of any man found guilty of treason or giving aid and assistance to the enemy. And the ex post facto law was one passed after the criminal act committed.

Paragraph four of Section 9 was the stumbling block of the graduated income tax and caused the adoption of the sixteenth amendment so that Congress would have power to lay and collect taxes on income from whatever sources derived, without apportionment among the several states, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

If that amendment had not been passed the income tax would have been the same rate on all incomes—not up to ninety per cent.

The fifth paragraph was directed against one state taxing goods shipped into it from another state. This provision of the Constitution has been eluded in many cases. For instance, California has collected fifteen dollars on all new automobiles driven into the state, for sale, placing it as a tax for the use of highways, and the nation has let California get by with it.

And by the same token, the prohibition contained in paragraph six that vessels going to and from one state to another be obliged to enter clear of any duties. Harbor duties have been collected steadily by the several coast cities. From every vessel piloted has been collected a fee, matter whether the boat's pilot knew the harbor just as well as the port pilot or not.

Paragraph 8 of Section 9 puts the onus on the ambition of any citizen of the United States to acquire any title of nobility either from the United States or from any foreign power.

The first paragraph of Section 10 prohibits any state from making anything but gold and silver legal tender in payment of debts, and still is a part of the Constitution of the United States, but it refers only to the power of the states. It is very unfortunate that the Constitution did not prohibit the Congress of the Union itself from making anything but gold and silver a tender in payment of debts, for when enacted by the then President Franklin Roosevelt, Congress by a joint resolution did on June 16, 1933, pass the following joint resolution:

"To assure uniform value of the coins and currencies of the United States.

"Whereas the holding of or dealing in gold affects the public interest and is therefore subject to prohibition and restriction; and

Washington Reports

Republicans Are Happy Over Wheeler's Defeat
GOP Sees Good Chance To Pick Up Senate Seat
How Australian Minister Handles Press

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Many

Republican politicians already are viewing the defeat of Montana's Senator Wheeler in the state primaries as a New Deal Lief Erickson as a GOP windfall.

The GOP now expects to pick up Wheeler's Senate seat and carry it to the Republican side of the aisle in the upper chamber.

Had Wheeler won the renomination, the Republicans openly concede they would have had little chance to beat the fighting Montana.

Now, however, they point out that Wheeler had the infernal backing of President Truman, his old Senate colleague and friend. They thus construe Erickson's victory as another rebuff to the president.

Beyond this, the Republicans believe that 80 per cent of Wheeler's backers who supported him for renomination will swing to the Republican candidate, who probably will be Zales N. Eaton when the chips are down in November.

They reason that Erickson, 40-year-old former supreme court judge has the backing of the CIO, the PAC and Jimmy Roosevelt.

These groups and Wheeler never were bedfellows.

While the economists and the state department aren't saying much about it, they anticipate considerable effect upon United States international relations as a result of the relaxation following lifting of price controls.

Any inflation, if sustained, might help, it was argued, though at the same time it would reduce the value of dollar credits to Britain and France.

It was pointed out, for instance, that increased prices would reduce the value of the dollar credits in terms of purchasing machine tools, equipment and foodstuffs.

Higher prices also are expected to reduce the ability of UNRRA to buy in United States markets, but foreign goods would increase in price on the United States market as well.

Thus borrowing countries would be more readily able to collect dollars to meet their credit debts.

Some economists, looking a little farther forward, also argue that declining value of the dollar in terms of buying goods will reduce the extent of tariff protection to domestic markets.

However, they do not expect that issue to be raised until there is a decline in United States internal trade, when protectionists might again raise the question of further increasing tariffs.

Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian minister of external affairs and, until recently, chairman of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, went to the Louis-Conan fight in New York with 11 other commission members.

The next day he came to Washington to confer on Pacific bases with President Truman and Acting Secretary of State Acheson.

Sparring with newsmen on various explosive questions, Evatt spoke of the presence of Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko at the prize fight and Gromyko's earlier defense of the veto of the big powers in the Security Council. He said:

"Just the same, Gromyko was unable to veto the triple punch that knocked out Billy Conn. In talking to the press on delicate subjects, I have learned from Conn that it's best to dance on the edge of the ring and not stick my neck out."

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

HOW AVERAGE CHILD GROWS

The child is not just a small edition of the adult. He is different from the adult in every fiber, every blood corpuscle, every bone cell, and in the relative proportion of all his parts. His resistance to disease and power of recovery from it, his food and rest and sleep requirements are all unlike those of the adult.

The newborn child is chiefly trunk and head. His head is as broad from side to side as his shoulders. His legs are very short. Most of his vital organs are far nearer their adult size than are his height and weight. His brain at birth is one-eighth of his entire weight, half as big as it ever will be.

Suppose adults were one-eighth brain!

A boy seven or eight weighs a man-size hat, and at 15, a man-size shoe. The baby's liver is one-eighth of him; the adult's one-thirty-sixth.

The Three-Year-Old
The three-year-old though only one-fifth as big, requires two-fifths as much food as the adult. The

Men We Look To For Sound Price Control

As already emphasized, sensible price control is chiefly up to the new price control board, which is empowered to remove or replace ceilings at will and override decisions both of OPA and the secretary of agriculture.

The utmost importance, therefore, attaches to the appointments to this agency which President Truman has now announced.

It is to be said that he has fulfilled his pledge to name men who hitherto have had no official connection with governmental price-fixing, and consequently are not committed to any of the blundering, short-sighted policies of the OPA.

The nomination of Mr. Buehls, for instance, would have served justice, for the country was in need of "more of the same" for the former top administrator, to put it mildly, leaned far more heavily toward iron-clad controls, than toward the policy of progressive decontrols in line with changing conditions.

But the appointees are no strangers of official Washington. All have long records of notable public service.

Roy L. Thompson, chairman-designate, had been president of the Federal Land Bank at New Orleans since 1938. Daniel B. Wells is a former undersecretary of the treasury and acting budget director.

George H. Mead was an industry representative on the War Labor Board.

Mr. Truman had promised to appoint men "in whose judgement and fairness Congress and the country will have complete confidence." His nomination to public office have not always matched his standard.

Some of them, indeed, have evoked general protest, but in this instance he seems to have exercised more wisdom.

The board's first test, in which consumers are most interested is scheduled for August 20 when it must decide whether or not to put meat, milk, butter, eggs, poultry, and other food products back under price control.

During this interval the price barometer will be its guide. The members, for example, will have the opportunity to determine whether indications of a break in meat prices are merely temporary, due to a release of livestock that producers have been holding back.

These are details and mighty important one that call for shrewd judgement and foresight. But in the broader sense the heaviest responsibility rests upon this board to carry out the general spirit of the new law: promotion of production at profits fair to all concerned and a gradual lifting of controls until it is safe once more to let free American enterprise have full play.

Orange Crate Derby Entrants Need Race Blanks

Boys Should Fill Out Information And Deposit Blanks To Get On Auto Race List

Young boys of the city who are planning to enter the Orange Crate derby to be held Labor Day must fill out the entry blank shown below and send it in to be included on the complete list of entrants for the race.

The blanks are to be filled out legibly and left at any one of the following places: B. F. Goodrich store, N. Mercer street; Gus Mens' Wear store, Majestic Wallpaper store, Montgomery Photo Shop, or the Boy Scout office in the Greer building. Boys who do not have a copy of the official rules for the race can pick them up at any of these places, also.

The racing fever has already caught on in the city, and it is reported that well over one hundred young boys are already engaged in constructing their racers for the big event.

Next year it is planned to enlarge the scope of the races and hold a district elimination series with the winner going to Pittsburgh for the finals.

McKeesport Will Reduce Number Of City Employees

McKEESPORT, July 30.—Thursday will be D-day Discharge Day for 31 municipal employees of McKeesport who will be cut from the city payroll as part of an economy program, following the recent public works employers' strike.

Of the 31 employees who have been notified of the loss of their jobs, 15 are employed by the sanitary department and 16 are park workers. All 31 were hired on a temporary basis, some as far back as 1944. Eight have been employed full-time since then, six in the sanitary department and two in the park department.

The discharges, according to James H. Gray, director of the department of parks and public property, are being made for 'budgetary reasons'.

The order is effective Thursday and will not affect servicemen.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

child is more "skinfal" than the adult. At the age of six he has 60 per cent more skin surface in proportion to his weight than the grown-up has. He is more sensitive, therefore, to changes in temperature. He consumes about twice as much oxygen in proportion to his weight as does the adult.

While girls from 11 to 14 exceed boys in height and weight, they trail the boys in lung capacity at every age. Not so much difference between boys and girls of primitive peoples.

The muscular system of the newborn is about one-fifth his weight; of the adult, about two-fifths. Much of that rigid bone in the adult was soft cartilage in the infant. The jaw is not completely hardened into bone until after puberty; hence deformities of the lower part of the face may be caused or cured up to this time.

First Tooth

The first tooth usually appears between the ages of six and seven months, earlier in girls than in boys, as a rule. The first set of teeth are all formed in the jaws before the baby's birth though we can't see them. The mother's health and diet during pregnancy and while nursing the baby determine the soundness of his teeth.

At the end of five months the average baby has doubled his weight, and at the end of a year, trebled it. He weighs, when he is eleven months as much as he weighed at birth.

When fully grown, he will be about three and one-half times as long as he is at birth. Starting off with about 20 inches, he adds ten inches to his length the first year. But it takes him three more years to double his birth-length.

These facts apply, of course, to the average child.

Brazil occupies nearly half of the South American Continent.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

has disclosed that provisions of obligations which purport to give the obligee a right to require payment in gold or a particular kind of coin or currency of the United States, or in an amount in money of the United States measured thereby, obstruct the power of Congress to regulate the value of the money of the United States, and are inconsistent with the declared policy of the Congress to maintain at all times the equal power of every dollar, coined or issued by the United States, in the markets, and in the payment of debts. Now, therefore,

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that

"(a) Every provision contained in or made with respect to any obligation which purports to give the obligee a right to require payment in gold or currency, or in amount in money of the United States measured thereby, is declared to be against public policy, and no such provision shall be contained in or made with respect to any obligation hereafter incurred. Every obligation, heretofore or hereafter incurred, whether or not any such provision is contained therein or made with respect thereto, shall be discharged upon payment, dollar for dollar, in any coin or currency, which at the time of payment is legal tender for public and private debts. Any such provision contained in any law authorizing obligations to be issued by or under authority of the United States, is hereby repealed, but the repeal of any such provision shall not invalidate any other provision or authority contained in such law.

"(b) As used in this resolution, the term obligation means an obligation (including every obligation of and to the United States, excepting currency) payable in money of the United States; and the term 'coin or currency' means coin or currency of the United States, including Federal Reserve notes and circulating notes of Federal Reserve banks and national banking associations.

"Sec. 2. The last sentence of paragraph (1) of sub-section (b) of Section 43 of the act entitled 'An act to relieve the existing national economic emergency by increasing agricultural purchasing power, to raise revenue for extraordinary expenses incurred by reason of such emergency, to provide emergency relief with respect to agricultural indebtedness, to provide for the orderly liquidation of joint-stock land banks, and for other purposes', approved May 12, 1933, is amended to read as follows:

"All coins and currencies of the United States (including Federal Reserve notes and circulating notes of Federal Reserve banks and national banking associations) heretofore or hereafter coined or issued, shall be legal tender for all debts, public and private, public charges, taxes, duties, and dues, except that gold coins, when below the standard weight and limit of tolerance provided by law for the single piece, shall be legal tender only at valuation in proportion to their actual weight."

Naturally, the holders of government bonds issued during World War I, which were made payable in gold, appeared in the United States Court of Claims asking damages for losses occasioned by this demonetization of gold and the cases were referred to the Supreme Court of the United States. There were four of them, as follows, known as the "Gold Clause" cases:

Norman against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.

United States against the Bankers Trust company.

Nortz against the United States.

Perry against the United States.

The decision of these cases was a 5 to 4 decision. The then Chief Justice Hughes read the majority opinion and made the decision of the court hinge upon the question of actual damages. The paramount question with the majority of the judges was: were any of the holders of these bonds damaged and they answered, unqualifiedly, "No." The decision begged the question. It evaded the solemn promise of the government to pay in gold and decided the case as to whether the holder was damaged by the refusal to pay the bond in gold.

The following are the closing paragraphs of the court's decision: "Plaintiff demands the equivalent" in currency of the gold coin promised. But 'equivalent' cannot mean more than the amount of money which the promised gold coin would be worth to the bondholder for the purposes for which it could legally be used. That equivalence or worth could not properly be ascertained save in the light of the domestic and restricted market which the Congress had lawfully established. In the domestic transactions to which the plaintiff was limited, in the absence of special license, determination of the value of the gold coin would necessarily have regard to its use as legal tender and as a medium of exchange under a single monetary system with an established parity of all currency and coins. And in view of the control of the export and foreign exchange, and the restricted domestic use, the question of value, in relation to transactions legally available to the plaintiff, would require a consideration of the purchasing power of the dollars which the plaintiff could have received. Plaintiff has not shown, or attempted to show, that in relation to buying power he has sustained any loss whatever. On the contrary, in view of the adjustment of internal economy to the single measure of value as established by the legislation of Congress, and the universal availability and use throughout the country of the legal tender currency in meeting all engagements, the payment to the plaintiff of the amount which he demands would appear to constitute not a recoupment of loss in any proper sense but an unjustified enrichment.

"Plaintiff seeks to make his case solely upon the theory that by resort of the change in the weight of the dollar he is entitled to one dollar and sixty-nine cents in the present currency for every dollar promised by the bond, regardless of any actual loss he has suffered with respect to any transaction in which his dollar may be used. We think that position is untenable.

"In the view that the facts alleged by the petition fail to show a cause of action for actual damages, the first question submitted by the Court of Claims is answered in the negative."

In that decision the dissenting Justices McReynolds, Van Devanter, Sutherland and Butler had this to say:

"Under the challenged statutes it is said the United States have realized profits amounting to two billion eight hundred million dollars. But this assumes that gain may be generated by legislative fiat. To such counterfeit profits there would be no limit; with each new debasement of the dollar they would expand. Two billions might be ballooned indefinitely—to twenty, thirty, or what you will.

"Loss of reputation for honorable dealing will bring us unending humiliation; the impending legal and moral chaos is appalling."

The decision was given February 18th, 1935, almost two years after gold had been demonetized by Congress, and it was outrageous, principally because the decision was made so long after the Act of Congress was passed thereby permitting citizens not only of the United States but of the world to adjust their values on governmental I. O. U. basis. The decision ought to have been made within a month of the Act of Congress; within a week, if you will, but the Supreme Court of the United States doesn't act that way. There were a great many million dollars worth of Liberty bond-gold bonds in existence held by foreign banks and investors.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Another hunger problem looms on tomorrow's horizon. UNRRA relief to Europe ends this year. The job of international relief UNRRA has been doing will not be completed by that time. Responsible men in high office are wondering what is to take its place.

Besides the humanitarian consideration, this has major political meaning. UNRRA Director Fiorenzo H. La Guardia said in Rome the other day that Italy would need help after January 1.

The political situation in Italy is far from stable. Resentment and bitterness over the peace settlement are reported widespread. A new hunger wave instantly be exploited by Communists who would welcome the chance to make political capital.

Congress is departing without taking any action on this all-important question. When a new Congress returns in January, international relief will be one of the problems waiting on the doorstep. Just before he left for Paris, a delegation representing a number of large organizations in this country called on Assistant Secretary of State Will Clayton, asking him to take the necessary steps. It would seem however, that the need is so great that only Congress can provide a solution.

Thanks to the bumper crop beginning to flow from the combines in the west, the price of grain is dropping. This means that governments will be able to buy it and that it will begin moving overseas.

If productivity in the shop could match productivity on the farm, much of the confusion and conflict would be resolved. America's true strength, the vitality of our system, would be made evident to all the world.

CUBA DECLARES ALL ALLIES RATE SEAT AT PARLEYS

HAVANA, July 30.—(INS)—Cuba protested strongly against holding the Paris peace conference without the active participation of all nations which declared war on the Axis and signed the United Nations Declaration of Jan. 1, 1942.

A statement issued by Innocente Alvarez, Cuban minister of state, charged the Paris conference constitutes a violation of the U. N. Declaration, which he pointed out stipulated that no signatories should sign a separate peace or armistice.

Second Power Strike Threat At Pittsburgh

Strike Notice Is Filed By Independent Union Of Duquesne Light Company

PITTSBURGH, July 30.—(INS)—Pittsburgh today was threatened with its second paralyzing power "black-out" within seven months, following the filing of a strike notice by the Independent union of employees of the Duquesne Light Company.

George L. Mueller, president of the utility company's independent association of employees today revealed the union had filed its dispute notice with the NLRB in Washington. The action would permit the calling of a strike after August 31, when seven of the union's nine contracts expire, he said.

A 20-hour strike by the Duquesne Light employees last February 12 halted all of Pittsburgh's street railway transportation service, blacked-out most of the city's lights and halted operations in some industries.

After the strike the union was granted an 18-cent-an-hour pay increase supplemental to the existing contract, which will expire August 31.

Bill Smaltz To Be Busy Man In Football Season

Will Be Penn State Student In Daytime, Assist Juniata On Gridiron

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 30.—Bill Smaltz, one of the nation's top passers five years ago, will divide his time between the football field and classroom on two college campuses this fall.

His education interrupted by war, the Aliquippa youth will continue his quest for a degree at Penn State while filling the dual role of backfield coach and assistant director of physical education at nearby Juniata College.

Smaltz, whose bullet-like passes to Len Krouse brought Penn State national recognition in 1941, will attend classes at his alma mater in the morning and then motor the 20 miles to Juniata, where football will occupy him until evening.

The former Lion fullback had several opportunities to enter professional football this fall, but shunned them in order to finish his education. His wife, Betty Rank Smaltz, also a Penn State graduate, is director of women's physical education at Juniata.

Younger Slant On The Town

The site for the January '42 reunion is still surprising a lot of people. Yankee Lake, no less, sounds like a big evening. The date is August 10, says Verlee Mauermann.

John Nichols, an Aliquippa boy who was stationed at Deshon, Pa., last summer, was in town on Sunday looking up some of the friends he made when he was around here. The boys at the annex used to call him "the old man."

Nichols has shed both crutches and braces, and is fully recovered and discharged, too.

Verna Heitsch was home from Washington, D. C., for the weekend. She is working at the same job she held while serving as a lieutenant in the Marine Corps Women's Reserve. Her local home is on North Mercer street, but she hasn't seen much of it in the past few years.

Betty Lou Carlson, "Dusty" Furlong and Mary Lou Sadler are all at Geneva-on-the-Lake for two weeks. They'll have company from home, for Barbara Hargan, Donna Shellito, Ilona Stevenson and Joanne Lely are there for a couple of weeks, too.

Mary Lou Fulkerson is spending the week at Ruth Sample's cottage on the Slippery Rock. Before she could move in, M. L. F. had to spend about two weeks cleaning the place up. No one except the field mice had been in it since last fall.

Miss Sample is on her way back from Mexico and will probably arrive home in August.

Don Harris has his discharge from the navy after 18 months of service. 16½ months of that time was spent in the Pacific. When he shed his uniform, he also shed the earning he was wearing when he came home.

Barbie Marquis's twirling training has been interrupted by a sprained thumb but she's been getting more laughs than sympathy for it.

The fact that Barbie, who is as slender as they come, sprained it on a reducing machine seems to amuse a lot of hardhearted cads.

Lois Ringer is in New Jersey for a week.

Colleen Carson is in New Castle for much more than a week. She's the latest arrival among the town's war brides, and will be here until her husband, Capt. Bob Carson, gets home from Japan. Or until she goes to Japan herself.

Colleen is from Durango, Australia.

Ralph Stokes is now down at Bainsbridge, Maryland, with Ollie Akers, Harold Capitola, and Jack Rose who left for the navy when Stokes should have left. Ralph was detained (that's a nice word for it) by an automobile accident after which he had to have stitches in his knee and seven stitches in his lip... he lost a tooth in the crash, too... Instead of leaving on July 10 when the other boys pulled out, Ralph left on his birthday, July 22.

We have received a letter from an anonymous letter writer who seems to be annoyed because his name hasn't been mentioned in the column. It's a sad fact, but no matter how snooty reporters are, they're bound to miss up on a few things. The only way that situation can be remedied is for the anonymous writer and others like him to send us the information which they would like to have in the column. If you feel that your gang is being neglected, how about helping us find out about it... we just ask one favor: please sign your name, address, and phone number. Anonymous letters never accomplish much.

Not everyone is away on vacation (including us). There are still a few people on the street or in the buses to say hello to. Dave Genkinger was on a Highland avenue bus with a brand new baseball bat about a week ago. Tommy Burns was hitch-hiking a ride in the new Wadlinger automobile on his way home from work the other morning.

Ellen Koonce was walking to work wearing an attractive, flesh-colored leotard belt that gave a bare-midriff effect—startling at 8 o'clock in the morning. Carol Boyd (Mrs. R. E.) Olson was stopping in for an early morning "coke" and showing off a sultan which she picked up at the lake and on the golf course (day after day). Genevieve Burgo and Diana Eldor were on their way out to the Burgo cottage one rainy evening last week.

Rotarians Hear About Procedure

Membership Attempts To Stump Experts With Questions At Luncheon Meeting

New Castle Rotary club members tried to stump the experts at their luncheon meeting in The Castleton Monday noon, when questions of a varied nature were hurled at the board of experts, Past District Governor J. Lee McFate, Dr. W. L. Beal, Blair Alverson and C. C. Sweet.

The questions which were asked of this board, appointed by President Carlisle Ferris, had been previously handed to L. C. Dayton, program chairman, and dealt with Rotary policies and procedures.

The program was designed to bring out the aims and purposes of Rotary, what makes a Rotary club click, how members are classified and how they are elected to membership. It proved of interest to all, especially the new members.

W. A. Leviden of Pittsburgh, W. A. Griffon of Cleveland, O., and R. F. Murland of Bessemer were special guests of the club.

Orphanage Band Pleases Audience

One of the most unique organizations that has appeared in the city for some time presented a band concert Monday evening in the Emmanuel Evangelical church, South Jefferson at South street.

The band, made up of orphan children from the Evangelical Orphanage at Lewisburg, Pa., consisted of saxophones, bass and French horns, with the 11 children participating, all accomplished artists, reflecting much credit to their director and leader, Professor Luther W. Albert.

The program consisted of classical as well as sacred music, with solo roles being taken by several members of the group.

Each year the group makes a tour of some section of the United States in behalf of the orphanage, and had appeared in this city at the invitation of the church pastor, Rev. H. H. Grove.

LUCKY STRIKE

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 30.—The Jack Agars are spending a lot of these hot evenings doing homework in dramatics. Mrs. Agar, of course, is Shirley Temple.

Shirley, only 18, has been a top flight star a dozen years, but Jack is preparing for his first role under his contract with David Selznick, who's also Shirley's boss.

Jack is very intent on perfecting his talents. Shirley told your reporter all about it with pride on the set of her new RKO picture, "The Bachelor and the Bobby Soxer."

"At first he wasn't interested in becoming an actor," Shirley said. "He was more anxious to get into the technical side of the business. Mr. Selznick first talked to Jack several times when he was in the army, but then he said no."

"Now he's very interested. He is studying hard with his coaches. He brings his parts home and we go through them together."

Shirley's eyes twinkled and she said: "Of course, I don't give him any advice. I let his coaches do that. I might tell him the wrong thing."

Shirley said she'd like very much to do a picture with her husband, but added she didn't think that would be for some little time yet. She explained:

"I don't think anyone should be pushed into big parts before they're completely prepared. We've seen what happens in those cases too many times. In a couple of years they're finished."

"The best thing to do is to work up slowly."

Your reporter remarked to Shirley what a little girl she was when he first met her.

"I really haven't grown very big though," she said. "I'm only five feet, two, but I'm glad I'm small."

I can work with anyone. Tall men or short men.

"I'm just a foot shorter than Jack. He's six feet, two."

With that, Mrs. Jack Agar went back to work.

The coolest place in town is Liberty's set of "It's A Wonderful Life." Jimmy Stewart and Henry Travers are working in a shanty beset by a blizzard.

"There's always something about a snow scene which makes you feel a little cooler. Besides that, Director Frank Capra, a stickler for realism, has dozens of big chunks of ice all over the place."

Their roles for the moment have Stewart and Travers ideally clad for the weather. Jimmy is down to his underwear and Henry's wearing a nightshirt.

Not romantic—but cool!

Hotel Rooms In
Washington EmptyUnlike Hectic War Years, Capital
Actually Has 3,000 Rooms
Available At Present

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(INS)—This you gotta see! Washington hotels (remember during the shooting war when you and 20 other guys shared a pre-shunk room closet in one of those?) today pulled in the standing room only signs and issued a piteous plea for customers.

In fact the greater national capital committee of the Washington board of trade admitted that last week there were 3,000—count 'em, 3,000—empty hotel rooms in the capital.

The committee also admitted that the phenomenon was "a near miracle."

The Washington Hotel association backed up the committee's figures and pulled its chin up off the floor long enough to report that business has been toogoggling steadily for six weeks.

Business is so bad, in fact, that capital business men stumped up $72,000 for the express purpose of attracting tourists and conventions to make the town look lived in.

Several Factors

The lack of customers is attributed to several factors by the committee. They cite the tapering off of businessmen coming to the capital to settle war contracts; the availability of pullman and plane space for travelers; a drop in the number of servicemen spending furloughs in the capital.

All of which adds up to one big headache for hotel men.

So incredible did the committee find its own statement that a picture was drawn for the benefit of prospective customers. The picture is presented this way:

"A man walked up to the desk of a Washington D. C. hotel.

"He was greeted warmly and cordially by the room clerks.

"He asked for a room.

"He got it. But quick.

"In fact several thousand visitors to Washington last week were amazed to be welcomed in the days of old, with a smile and service de luxe. There was no waiting in line. Bellhops were on hand to lend assistance.

"Even the manager came out of a five-year hiding to greet new guests."

Five years in hiding can make a terrific difference in a man.

Great Potential

Prosperity Near

ATLANTIC CITY, July 30.—Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel Corporation, said the nation faced "great potential prosperity over the next two years" provided the government established a firm wage-price policy. Fairless said.

"In the steel business, labor represents 55 to 65 per cent of the cost of operation. Our government should take a firmer hand in all its policies. A program clearly defined and fair to both labor and management will set the wheels of progress going at a tremendous rate."

Discussion Quiz

At a recent meeting of the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Joseph's church, a question box was featured with Rev. Fr. John M. Unger, spiritual director in charge. Later the questions were presented to the group in an open floor discussion.

Father Unger opened with prayer. Hymns were practiced for the Sodality Sunday, with Clare Duff, church organist, at the piano.

Reports were heard from the committee, and Eucharistic chairmen. Eleanor Klaber reported on the Sodality Sunday in July.

Catholic Youth committee presented a written quiz on Catholic religion with the group participating.

Social chairman, Rita Leonard, was in charge of a game.

"Mother Beloved" hymn and prayer closed the meeting.

Trolley Union

Has New Policy

In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—(INS)—Philadelphia's trolley riders were getting courteous — if not speedy — service today as members of the CIO-Transport workers union embarked on a "safety and courtesy" campaign.

The union members claim they cannot practice both courtesy and safety under present operating schedules set up by the company. Police policemen greeted each passenger with a smile, and waited patiently while every one who wanted to crowded into their vehicles.

Joseph B. Dougherty, union president, admitted some of the trolleys probably would be way behind their running schedules. In fact, he warned Philadelphians to leave for work 15 minutes early.

"For years, the workers of PTC have been blamed by the public for unsatisfactory service," Dougherty said.

"That was the fault of PTC's unsafe schedules. We've dickered three years to have the schedules changed, but the company has refused. We will now stick to the book, but it will mean longer running times."

The company posted notices in all its depots, addressed to the operators:

"You have never been asked, and never will be asked, to sacrifice the public safety, or your safety, to meet any schedule. Our first obligation is to provide safe, dependable, courteous service."

JOHNSTOWN.—There is at least one caddy at the Susquehanna Country club who has the build for a gruelling 18-hole round. He is 15-year-old Steve Kiraly, of Brownstown, who is about six feet tall and weighs 240 pounds. He wears a size 15 shoe.

Officers Attacked

By Angry Mob After
Striking Of YouthState Police Called To Plains, Pa.
To Quell Demonstrators Following Incident

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 30.—(INS)—Twenty state troopers were summoned to nearby Plains early today to protect a policeman from an angry crowd of more than 500 persons who rioted at a church bazaar when he attempted to arrest a youth for fighting.

Troopers were called after Policeman Joseph Sheerin reportedly struck Frank Wienek, 19, of Plains, with a nightstick to break up a fight at the bazaar staged by St. Peter and St. Paul's church. The youth was admitted to the Wilkes-Barre General hospital suffering a head laceration.

The crowd charged the officer, who was bleeding from injuries, and he retreated into the church rectory after firing two revolver shots into the ground, police reported.

Fellow police acted to Sheerin's rescue but were unable to quell the rioters who ripped wiring from the police cruiser, disabling the vehicle.

State police held the crowd in check until approximately 2 a. m. when the demonstrators dispersed. Plains police said Wienek would be taken into custody when released by the hospital.

Approximately 10 ringleaders in the demonstration will be arrested, police reported.

Seventeen-Year-Old College Boy
Faces Murder Charges In Court Room Today

CHICAGO, July 30.—(INS)—William Heirens, 17-year-old college boy murder suspect whose alleged career in crime has shocked the nation, becomes the main actor today in his own story of three slayings.

Heirens has been pacing his jail cell in moody silence or reading and sleeping intermittently since his arrest June 26, while his counsel and the state's attorney's staff have given intensive study to his case.

But today he is scheduled to take the center of the stage in a courtroom drama when he appears before Chief Justice Harold G. Ward of the criminal court for arraignment on two indictments charging murder.

One is for the kidnap-murder of Suzanne Degnan, 6, last January 7.

The other is for the murder of ex-Wave Frances Brown, 33, who was bludgeoned, shot and stabbed to death during a burglary of her apartment last December 10.

In addition, Heirens has been indicted for 29 burglaries and four assaults with intent to kill.

Immediately after his arraignment today the young University of Chicago student will go to the office of State Attorney William Tuohy to give what Tuohy has termed "such statements as he chooses to give."

Heirens will be accompanied by at least one of his attorneys and his statements will be steered by Tuohy to cover not only the Degnan and Brown murders, but the slaying a year ago of Mrs. Josephine Ross, a widow.

One Man Killed, Five Others Injured As Pilotless Plane
Plunges To Earth

MIAMI, Fla., July 30.—(INS)—An investigation was launched today into the crash of an unpiloted plane which killed one man and injured five others at the Miami naval air station.

Lt. William J. Freiburger of St. Louis, Mo., was struck by a flying part from the explosion that followed the plane's crash yesterday, and died three hours later.

Commander Charles L. Moore, Jr., executive officer of the station, said that the pilot, Lt. Comdr. S. R. Davis of Hollywood, Fla., bailed out when he lost control of his plane during high altitude formation maneuvers.

The plane, without pilot, straightened out, flew around, then plunged 15,000 feet to the field and exploded, scattering parts through the air.

Senate Faces Some Problems On Adjourning

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(INS)—The senate today faced a knotty parliamentary situation before it can adjourn sine die Friday, with action slated on such controversial measures as the Townsend old age pension plan and the anti-poll tax bill.

Three senators—Pepper, Fla.; Downey, Calif.; and Taylor, Idaho, all Democrats—planned to offer a revised Townsend plan as an amendment to the house-approved social security bill now pending in the senate.

Pepper said he hoped a vote could be obtained on the plan, which has been pigeonholed in the house. If so, it would be the first. Pepper said the Townsend plan would provide pensions of $60 to $100 to every person of 60 through a three per cent tax on gross income.

The test on the house-approved anti-poll tax bill will come tomorrow when the senate will vote whether to impose closure to prevent a filibuster against the measure by southern senators.

At 4 o'clock races and games will be enjoyed and a sports committee has arranged an afternoon of sports. Featuring will be a football game between rival patrols of the Boy Scouts of the parish.

Westminster To Erect Eight New Houses At Once

NEW WILMINGTON, July 30.—Erection of eight prefabricated houses for members of the faculty was authorized at a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of Westminster College, Monday.

With an unprecedented enrollment of 900 students expected in September and special classes planned for afternoon and evening to care for surplus students, the hiring of additional faculty members has been necessary.

A survey of the housing situation in the community revealed that not a single house was available for incoming teachers. A special committee will be named to handle the construction details and it is hoped to have the houses ready for occupancy early in September.

Social Diseases Shown On Decline

HARRISBURG, July 30.—(INS)—The State Health Department disclosed today that reports from 173 state-aided clinics indicated success for the commonwealth's 25-year-old battle against social disease.

Secretary Harry W. Weest said a "consistent drop" had been noted in the number of applications for treatment of venereal disease and that on May 31, 1946, there were 12,208 patients registered with the clinics compared with an all-time high of 19,241 in January, 1943.

Men Folks Turn To Sweet Scents Business Shows

Survey Reveals 40 Million Dollars In Men's Perfume Spent In 1945

PITTSBURGH, July 30.—(INS)—Ah! The tantalizing scent of a lady's perfume—the lure for males since time immemorial!

But that isn't exactly correct according to the Pittsburgh Toilet Goods association meeting in Pittsburgh.

Mr. America has gone for the sweet scents in other ways, said Charles W. Higgs, president of the association.

He declared: "We did 40 million dollars worth of business in perfumes for men last year, and this year we estimate we'll do about 65 million dollars worth."

The popularity of men's perfume is a carry-over from the war, Higgs added. The sales, it seems, heard of the lack of bathing facilities overseas and shipped the stuff by the case. It caught on and is a booming business today, Higgs said.

Eisenhower To Halt Food Waste In Army Kitchens

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was disclosed today to have taken action to halt waste of food in army kitchens.

Eisenhower, army chief of staff, also has ordered maintenance of vegetable gardens at disciplinary barracks because of the "present critical food shortage."

This action along with his protest against inadequate food conservation in army kitchens was revealed in an army circular.

The five-star general directed that military personnel or general prisoners provide the labor required for vegetable growing. He asserted that "when the vegetables are available a corresponding reduction will be made in the ration issued by the quartermaster."

Eisenhower declared that a recent survey by the inspector general of the food conservation program in the army disclosed that "sufficient efforts are not being made to keep kitchen stocks at a minimum."

Last spring a report by a special civilian board to Secretary of War Patterson charging that the army food program was wasteful and unhealthful brought demands from Eisenhower that the situation be corrected.

Kerr explained that his probe is separate from the Mead investigation into the wartime activities of the Garsson Brothers' munitions companies.

PLAN INSTITUTES
ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 30.—(INS)—The eastern area headquarters of the American Red Cross today planned a series of one-day claims institutes to be held throughout Pennsylvania during August.

The meeting will be held at nine points in the state beginning at Reading August 1. Other towns which will be host to the institutes are York, DuBois, Berwick, Scranton, New Castle, Williamsport, Uniontown and Altoona.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's happy relief will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Housing Survey Makes Progress

Information Being Gathered By Bureau Of Census To Help Relieve Situation

Good progress is being made in the housing survey being conducted hereby the Bureau of the Census, A. L. Triggs, who is in charge of the work stated today, and the task of gathering information being assembled by the government to assist in relieving the housing shortage throughout the nation, is expected to be completed in the two-week period allotted to the job here.

In addition to a group of trained workers, a number of local people are aiding with the job.

In addition to the general condition, information is being gathered particularly from veterans as to their housing needs, whether they contemplate building, and what type of homes they would expect to build. Particular attention is being paid to any vacancies which exist, why these houses are vacant, and whether they are habitable. From experience found elsewhere, most vacant homes in other places have been found to be uninhabitable, although there are some houses now vacant, which the owners are desirous of selling.

Marriage Law Change Proposed

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—(INS)—The Registers Association of Pennsylvania today stuck to their bows and arrows in their attempt to make marriage easier for Pennsylvanians.

The Registers claim the old marriage law, passed in 1885, is "outmoded", and they intend to press for a new bill in the 1947 legislature. The chief restriction of the officials oppose is one which limits the marriage ceremony to the county in which the license was obtained.

They believe the couple should be allowed to wed anywhere in Pennsylvania, no matter in what county they obtained the license.

Seek Recognition For Assistant Foremen's Union

PITTSBURGH, July 30.—(INS)—The United Mine Workers supervisory union—Jones & Laughlin Steel Company dispute took a new turn today when the union sought bargaining recognition for general assistant mine foremen.

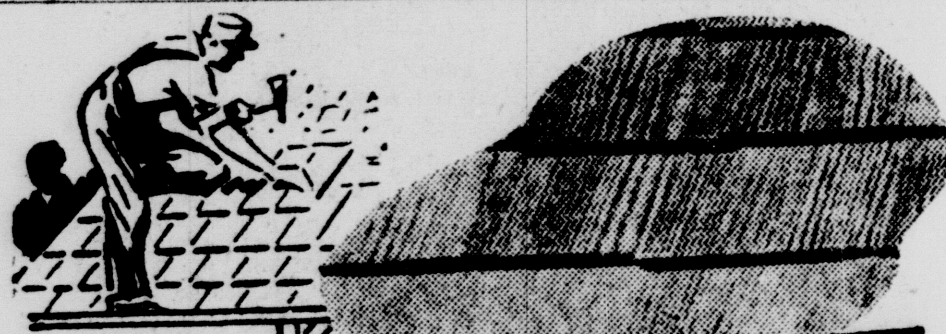

Previously the foremen were exempted by a national labor board directive.

The issue is being heard before a National Labor Relations Board examiner in Pittsburgh on a petition of united clerical, supervisory and technical employees. Recognition for 25 bosses is being sought.

The union is pressing the demand despite the fact that a recently signed foreman's contract with the coal mine administration exempts general assistant foremen from recognition in the company's four federally controlled mines.

Library Arranges Six-Week Seminar In 'Great Books'

University Of Chicago Plan To Be Used In Course For Adults
Here

Describing the course as "the most exciting intellectual adventure ever planned in New Castle," Miss Alice Sterling, chief librarian of the New Castle public library, has announced a six-week seminar in the great books of the Western World which will begin on August 20.

Six outstanding works of literature, relatively easy and sufficiently small so that they may be read by adults at one sitting, will be discussed in round-table panels in the assembly room of the library.

Open To Public
The program is open to the public, and the participants need not be library card-holders. An introductory session at which the program will be outlined has been scheduled for Tuesday evening, August 13, at 7:30, in the library assembly room. A sample reading will be discussed at this time.

Abraham Krash, a graduate of the University of Chicago which introduced the great books program as part of a nationwide adult education plan, will conduct the experimental seminars, Miss Sterling revealed. Krash is a graduate student in philosophy and law at Chicago and was one of the original students in the program.

Special arrangements are being completed by the library to obtain the books which will be discussed, and the library is also seeking to procure inexpensive editions of the readings for those who may be interested in owning personal copies.

Plato First Subject
"The Apology" and "The Crito" by Plato, two of the first great philosophic works, will be the subject of the first regular session on August 20. According to Miss Sterling, the selections will be read prior to each panel and then discussed in an informal atmosphere which will emphasize the maximum participation by members of the group. The plan has already met with widespread approval at public libraries in Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Washington and New York, the librarian pointed out.

If a sufficiently large group registers, several sessions will be scheduled at the convenience of the participants. College students home for the summer and members of book review clubs are especially urged to participate.

Those who wish to enroll should contact Miss Sterling at the library by postcard or telephone, or may sign at the desk in the library. They may also register at the introductory session on August 13.

British Health Bill Rapped By George B. Shaw

LONDON, July 30.—(INS)—George Bernard Shaw, in his first letter to The Times since turning 90, warned today that Britain's new health bill may increase the mortality rate because it will be administered by doctors.

He asserted that non-medical men should be appointed to the general medical council to supervise functioning of the health measure. He declared that staffing the council with doctors was "exactly as if prisoners on commissions were practicing burglars and murderers". Shaw wrote:

"I shall not be at all surprised if, in 1948 when the new act comes into operation, the result may mean a sharp rise in our mortality. It (the act) leaves the oldest and youngest registered doctor or surgeon with power which our monarchs have not possessed since 1649. (Charles I was executed by Oliver Cromwell's followers that year.)

"They may poison or mutilate us professionally with virtually complete immunity and considerable pecuniary gain. Believing them to be magically omniscient, we've made them legally omnipotent as well."

"The proper function of the general medical council is to protect patients against an abuse of power by doctors. First condition of its efficiency is that it shall be composed of laymen."

Traffic Deaths Total 15,750 In Six Month Period

Reveal 540,000 Persons Injured; Toll
Is 40 Per Cent Higher Than Last Year's Total

CHICAGO, July 30.—(INS)—The nation's traffic toll the first six months of this year was 15,750 killed, and 540,000 injured, the National Safety Council reported today.

The toll was 40 per cent higher than for the same period a year ago, when wartime restrictions on driving prevailed.

Compared with pre-war 1941, there was little difference for the first four months, but in May and June of 1946, the death toll showed a drop of 21 and 19 per cent. Safety Council President Ned H. Dearborn said:

"We believe there is definite evidence that the nation is beginning at last to sober up a little from the traffic spree it has been on ever since V-J Day."

"But the traffic accident toll is still a disgrace to the country, and must be regarded with shame and alarm until it is cut drastically—and permanently."

Sixty-three cities had perfect records for the six months period. The largest was New Britain, Conn.

The leading cities by registration rate (number of traffic deaths per 10,000 registered vehicles) in each population group for the 6-month period:

Over 500,000 population—Milwaukee, 3.2.
From 250,000 to 500,000 population—Providence, R. I., 1.1.
From 100,000 to 250,000—Tampa, Fla., 1.0.
From 50,000 to 100,000—New Britain, Conn., 0.9.
From 25,000 to 50,000—Jackson, Mich., 0.9.
From 10,000 to 25,000—San Leandro, Calif., 0.9; Butler, Pa., 0.9.

In These Days of Soaring Expense

Cooking with Gas is Measured in Cents

J. Bascomb Collingwood Ipswitch McSludge

Was a crusty old gent with a permanent grudge

Who nursed all his nickels and pennies, as well,

And constantly chided his wife, Susabelle,

About the expense of the household.

Each day brought its battles to menage McSludge

How the neighbors enjoyed them—they scarcely could budge

From their windows. (Since Susy, no slouch on defense,

Accounted for everything, down to the cents,

In the budget of the household.)

And always the clincher—from Susy, of course,

(Twas then that poor Bascomb suffered remorse)

Was, "You'll have to admit that my cooking's deluxe

You eat every bite and it runs into bucks

To feed you and the household.

"And never forget, when we bought our Gas Range,

I was the one who prevented a change

From this excellent fuel with its features so many

That've made meals so tasty, saved many a penny

On the cost of running this household."

You can cook with Gas for almost a song

Figure a dollar a month, it isn't far wrong

DeGaulle Urges Pact Between Britain-France

Seeks To Offset Influence In Europe Of United States And Soviet

PARIS, July 30.—(INS)—Diplomats in Paris for the general peace conference were stirred Monday by a plea by former President Charles De Gaulle for a pact between Britain and France to offset power wielded in Europe by the U. S. and Soviet Russia.

De Gaulle's suggestion was made in a speech at Bar-Le-Duc in which he warned of a new conflict if Germany is permitted again to turn toward war.

The former president did not repeat arguments he previously offered for political separation of the Rhine from Germany, but he did demand internationalization of that "immense arsenal," and incorporation of the Saar into France's economy.

Only First Rank Powers

De Gaulle said only the U. S. and Russia now occupy first rank among the powers, and indicated he believes it would take all western Europe, with Britain, to create a bloc of sufficient weight to count against the two "giants."

He pointed out that America seems animated by individual reason while Russia has "concentrated in one man all the power of society." De Gaulle added:

"Russia and the U. S., rich in men and resources, command in their territories and naturally protected as they are, seem tempted by their very mass toward an expansion that, in accordance with eternal custom, is draping itself in the mantle of doctrines but in the long run is really the unfolding of power."

Reporter Gets Ride On New Park Railway

Miniature Railway Operating At Park Attracting Much Attention From Youngsters

All Aboard! And a reported was off on his first ride on the recently installed miniature railway at Cascade Park. One complete revolution of the railway, which is just across the little wooden bridge in the upper section of the park near Superintendent Coulthard's office, and the reporter had ridden exactly 375 feet.

The small railroad was the idea of Wayne Aiken, owner and manufacturer of the amusement, who bought himself an old Model A Ford motor and built a frame work around it rigging it up into a small car on the order of the miniature racing cars, except for the wheels which are steel and run on tracks. According to Mr. Aiken, the tracks, which were formerly used in a coal mine, came from Somerset county. They were assembled in the city here for use on the railroad. Several cars are attached to the engine with 24 people being able to ride the road at one time.

If the idea goes over plans are under way to lay new tracks and extend the run down to the swimming pool and return. At present, three runs are made around the tracks, which makes a complete ride.

Seek To Return Quarantined Dog To Stricken Girl

NEW YORK, July 30.—(INS)—The Jamaica Board of Health was petitioned today to return a quarantined wire-haired terrier to a 19-year-old girl suffering from a rheumatic heart, as a means of improving her condition or even saving her life.

Authority for the prescription involving Elaine Elman was Dr. Harry Richman whose statement was read before the supreme court in Jamaica. He added that the loss of the pet has aggravated her condition.

According to the board of health, the dog, Gable, was picked up 30 blocks from the Elman home and must be quarantined for three months or destroyed immediately.

The action for the return of the dog was brought by Elaine's sister, Sylvia. She testified that they were walking the dog and the leash broke. Justice Charles W. Proessel ordered that an official referee take testimony August 14.

Dodgers And Cardinals Begin Crucial Series Today

Brooklyn Holds Edge In Series Starting Tonight

Cards Have Two And Half Game Lead To Overcome; Must Win Three In Row

NEW YORK YANKS STILL DROPPING

NEW YORK, July 30.—(INS)—The crucial three-game Brooklyn-St. Louis series which opens at Ebbets field tonight didn't need any advance tub-thumping to lure the frenzied Flatbush fans to the turnstiles, but Leo Durocher provided some for the fans today anyway by unleashing a verbal blast against the Cardinals.

According to the fiery Brooklyn manager, the Cards "just haven't got what it takes to win the National league pennant this year."

"Sure, the Cards have a fine lot of players, but with that bunch, they should have been ten games in front of us by now. Ever since May, I've been reading about the big drive they are going to put on. Well, when are they going to start it? I'll tell you one thing—St. Louis is not going to win the pennant."

Leo the Lip is feeling a bit cocky because the Dodgers will have to drop all three games with the Cards to lose the National league lead. The Brooks increased their advantage to 2½ games by drubbing Cincinnati yesterday 7 to 3 while the Cardinals lost to the Boston Braves, 2 to 1.

Home runs decided both contests, and also were numerous in other games. Pete Reiser's three-run homer followed another circuit clout by Dixie Walker with the bases empty and snapped the six-game winning streak of the Reds' veteran Bucky Walters.

Both Mort Cooper of the Braves and Johnny Beazley of the Cardinals pitched six-hit ball in a contest in which three homers accounted for all the scoring. Tommy Holmes and Carden Gillenwater hit the Boston wallop, while Whitey Kurowski's smash over the left-center fence in the ninth robbed Cooper of a shutout.

Senators Win Two
Circuit clouts also settled the issue in American league games. Eddie Lake's homer with a man on base was enough to give Detroit a 4 to 1 triumph over the Athletics, and a round tripper by Buddy Lewis in the tenth stakes Washington to a 2 to 1 decision over Cleveland in the first game of a twin bill. In the nightcap, the Senators scored seven runs in the third inning and went on to win, 8 to 4.

Hank Edwards and Bob Lemon honored for the Indians in the nightcap.

All four of the New York and Chicago club battled in overtime contests under the arc lights. The Cubs noled out the Giants 5 to 4 when Ken Trinkle made a wild pitch in the 11th inning. The White Sox noled out the Yankees 4 to 3 in the twelfth inning with relief pitcher Earl Caldwell winning his own game with a base hit which scored Bob Kennedy.

Other clubs were idle.

WILL PLAY TONIGHT
The Duca D'Abuzzi softball team of the city-industrial league will play the First Baptists of the church softball league at Colonial field tonight at 6 o'clock. It was announced by Manager Jimmy Valentino of the Dukes.

WILL PLAY TONIGHT
The Duca D'Abuzzi softball team of the city-industrial league will play the First Baptists of the church softball league at Colonial field tonight at 6 o'clock. It was announced by Manager Jimmy Valentino of the Dukes.

Leo the Lip is feeling a bit cocky because the Dodgers will have to drop all three games with the Cards to lose the National league lead. The Brooks increased their advantage to 2½ games by drubbing Cincinnati yesterday 7 to 3 while the Cardinals lost to the Boston Braves, 2 to 1.

Home runs decided both contests, and also were numerous in other games. Pete Reiser's three-run homer followed another circuit clout by Dixie Walker with the bases empty and snapped the six-game winning streak of the Reds' veteran Bucky Walters.

Both Mort Cooper of the Braves and Johnny Beazley of the Cardinals pitched six-hit ball in a contest in which three homers accounted for all the scoring. Tommy Holmes and Carden Gillenwater hit the Boston wallop, while Whitey Kurowski's smash over the left-center fence in the ninth robbed Cooper of a shutout.

Senators Win Two
Circuit clouts also settled the issue in American league games. Eddie Lake's homer with a man on base was enough to give Detroit a 4 to 1 triumph over the Athletics, and a round tripper by Buddy Lewis in the tenth stakes Washington to a 2 to 1 decision over Cleveland in the first game of a twin bill. In the nightcap, the Senators scored seven runs in the third inning and went on to win, 8 to 4.

Hank Edwards and Bob Lemon honored for the Indians in the nightcap.

All four of the New York and Chicago club battled in overtime contests under the arc lights. The Cubs noled out the Giants 5 to 4 when Ken Trinkle made a wild pitch in the 11th inning. The White Sox noled out the Yankees 4 to 3 in the twelfth inning with relief pitcher Earl Caldwell winning his own game with a base hit which scored Bob Kennedy.

Other clubs were idle.

Frick Approves Players' Demands

National League President Okays Demands For Pay Raise And Pension Plan

NEW YORK, July 30.—(INS)—Ford Frick, president of the National League, today had placed the seal of his approval on the demands of the ball players for higher wages, a pension plan, and lesser demands.

Frick said:

"I think the players' demands are basically sound and reasonable. Of course, there are a multitude of petty details to be ironed out but that is merely a routine job."

The articulate Roy Hughes of the Phillies, speaking for the National League players, whose representatives from each club met in Frick's office yesterday, said:

"We didn't have time to frame up all our needs yesterday but we will meet again Friday. One of the changes we want is a representative from each club to meet with the club owners rather than a small committee. I think we have made excellent progress and we agreed on everything without difficulty."

Indeed they did. The sports writers can vouch for the fact that the players, unlike club owners' meetings so often in the past, met in the friendliest spirit and reached an accord with business-like despatch.

Byrnes Defends Rights Of Small Nations In Parley

PARIS, July 30.—(INS)—United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, speaking at America's voice to the peace conference of 21 victorious countries, today vigorously defended the right of small nations to overrule decisions of the big four.

In his first major address to a plenary session of the conference in the Luxembourg palace of Paris, Byrnes served notice that if the assembly by a two-thirds vote decided to revise any of the big four's decisions on peace treaties, the United States delegation will support such revisions.

He promised that the United States delegation would "use its influence" to persuade the council of foreign ministers to accept the changes.

Heirens To Begin Full Confession To Many Crimes

CHICAGO, July 30.—(INS)—An usually pale William Heirens, 17-year-old university student murder suspect, was taken to the office of State's Attorney William Tuohy today to begin his full confession to a long series of ghastly murders and night-time burglaries.

Heirens was whisked from the court room of Judge Harold G. Ward to Tuohy's office after he was formally arraigned on two indictments charging him with the bloody kidnap-murder of Suzanne Degnan and the lipstick murder of ex-Wave Frances Brown.

Heirens, so pale that his lips were bloodless, did not plead to either indictment. Before he had a chance to say a word in court, one of his attorneys, Mal Coghlan, stepped forward and asked for a continuance of the case until August 14.

The continuance was granted after Tuohy said he had no objection.

Lawyer Named As Correspondent

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 30.—(INS)—Wade K. Newell, prominent lawyer and former Fayette county district attorney, today was named correspondent in a divorce action filed by Russell B. Bradstock, of Uniontown, against his wife, Alverda.

The petition, filed by Attorney James Reilly with President Judge W. Russell Carr, charged that on July 15, Mrs. Bradstock was found in Newell's office clad only in a sheer slip and that Newell was in the nude.

The Bradstocks were married in Oakland, Md., January 22, 1943.

Tommy And Shelton Bell Win Battles

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—(INS)—Tommy Bell, of Youngstown, O., today held a unanimous ten-round decision over California welterweight champ, Jackie Wilson, following their meeting at the Philadelphia arena.

Although Wilson fought on tirelessly and valiantly, he was repeatedly outboxed and outpunched by the lanky long-armed Bell.

It was a good night for the Bell family as Tommy's brother, Shelton, trounced a light heavy who calls himself St. Paul.

Interests here and well always be friends."

"I asked if it would be all right for me to send Paul the check. Coffee said, 'Yes, send it to Paul. That is the substance of that contract agreement.'"

Coffee has stated that the $2,500 check from Anderson was received as a campaign "donation" and that all he did for Anderson was make sure that he was awarded a one million dollar hospital construction contract as the qualified low bidder.

Anderson, however, told the committee that the question of campaign expenses was "never mentioned" in the capital conversation.

The contractor, speaking with a marked accent, told the committee under questioning by Sen. Ferguson (R. Mich.), that he had advised Olson that he had included the $2,500 in his bid on the Fort Lewis, Wash., project.

WAR ON LICE
BERLIN.—(INS)—"Delousing" has become a part of ordinary routine in post-war Germany. The latest wrinkle in the unending campaign to keep the disease-bearing insects under control as automatic delousing of all travellers. Passengers are sprayed with DDT powder before they board a train and their railroad tickets are then stamped to indicate that they have been duly deloused.

MOULTRE, GA.—(INS)—Farmer Perry Mason found one of his hens standing "knee-deep" in a mud puddle, squawking violently. He investigated to find that the fowl, who had apparently been keeping an eye out for hawks, was held fast by a submerged loggerhead turtle.

School Picnic On August 16

Thaddeus Stevens School
Alumni To Meet For Reunion At Cascade
Park

Plans are completed for the annual picnic of Thaddeus Stevens school alumni held in the grove of Cascade Park August 16. President Reginald Bailey has named the following committee chairmen for this year's affair.

Table Committee—Mrs. Isabelle McKee.
Coffee Committee—Albert Marks.
Publicity Committee—Bart Richards.
Program Committee—Howard Reynolds.
Teachers Registration—Miss Reebe Sines.
Students Registration—Mrs. Bertha Campbell.
Sports Committee—Wes Mann.
Public Address—Paul Rowland.

The president and committee chairmen met with John Loudon, Paul McGaffie and Howard Schweinsburg at the home of Howard Reynolds and completed the plans for the picnic.

All of the details were worked out and the committee expects the largest attendance of any year and have a lot in store in the way of a good show.

The picnic will begin at 3 p. m. in the grove. It will start with Wes Mann in charge of the races. Wes has some fine races scheduled and is offering prizes worth trying for the winners. Supper is scheduled for 6 p. m. sharp in the grove.

At 8 p. m. the crowd will move to the fun house where they will witness one of the finest four acts of vaudeville in the show business. The program committee is to be congratulated in securing the George Bailey Show. Mr. Bailey is known as the man with the photographic mind. He is introduced to all the guests present and guarantees that later on he will call all of them by name. He pays $5.00 to any person whose name he fails to remember. There will also be sweet old time melodies played on a unique set of expensive glasses partly filled with water. The feast of magic presented by Mr. Bailey is uncanny; such as baking cookies in a prominent person's hat, a guest losing his shirt, and etc.

EXAMINE COMBS WHEN PICK- -ING MARKET HENS

In selecting market hens from the laying flock, experienced poultrymen first take a glance at the combs for an indication whether the birds are in production.

Hens in high production normally have full red combs, and few or no feathers or pin feathers. When the combs start to shrivel and hens begin to molt they generally are going out of production. Those hens, especially in the heavy breeds, should be marketed.

Other characteristics also can be reliable guides in determining when hens have more value for meat purposes than for egg production. Preference for remaining on the roost over evening grain feeding can be an indication of lack of production.

By noting these and other characteristics closely it is possible to market the non-layers before they get many pin feathers and lose body weight, as often happens when they start to molt.

Pennsy Dividend Being Paid From Previous Earnings

Because the Pennsylvania railroad operated at a loss of $31,000,000 in the first six months of this year, dividends of one per cent, or 50 cents per share, payable today, is being paid out of the earnings of other years. M. W. Clement, president, announced today.

From the earnings of other years, and from the cash previously saved, the company is able to meet its obligations to the employees for the increases in wages granted them; to pay its suppliers the increase in prices asked for materials; pay taxes; and pay dividends to the stockholders of the company, the president stated.

Fire Guttred Sharon Church Will Now Be Replaced By New One

SHARON, July 30.—Announcement is made that Grace Lutheran church, which was gutted by fire last May, will be rebuilt on its present location. The announcement was made by Rev. Clemens Schirmer, pastor of the church.
